THE SUSTAINABLE ESCAPE
THE FARM AT CAPE KIDNAPPERS,
HAWKE'S BAY,
NEW ZEALAND

By Matthew Upchurch, CEO of Virtuoso, a network of luxury travel companies around the world

The Farm at Cape Kidnappers is a beautiful property that my family and I visited last year. The cape has been turned into a kiwi sanctuary. They incubate the birds and when they reach a certain size, they release them into the wild to let them mature and repopulate. The property has an experience where you can help band the kiwis and then go out and release them. Another evening, we went looking for glowworms on an excursion to the riverbed. We literally became embedded in the mud! My boys called it the natural Las Vegas Strip because there were thousands of glowworms there. It was an incredible moment with my kids that I will never forget.
